RULES AND REGULATIONS (Please keep this page for your records, no need to return)

the cotswold gardening school

To ensure a happy and healthy working environment we ask students to observe the following house rules and regulations:

Smoking is not permitted in the school building.

If smoking outside, students are asked to dispose of cigarette ends respectfully and not to leave them in the garden.

In the event of a fire: If you suspect there is a fire at the school, please leave the building and advise any other students. Once you are safe, please let a member of our team know, as long as this does not compromise your own safety.

The assembly point in case of a fire or fire drill is the school car park.

School Hours

10h00 – 15h30 Monday to Saturday, with the first lecture starting at 10h30

Office Hours 10h00 – 15h00 Monday to Friday

Lunch break and tea breaks

Tea and coffee are available on a self-serve basis from 10h00. Lunch is included in your course with us. Please do inform the school if you have any specific dietary requirements. The timing for lunch may vary slightly but will usually be around 13h00. It is expected that students will behave in a polite and respectful manner during shared lunches.

Arrivals and attendance

In order for all students to get the full benefit from the course, it's important to start on time. Students are responsible for arriving each day between 10:00 (when the school doors will be unlocked) and 10:30. You are advised to arrive on time in order not to miss any announcements / changes to the day.

We appreciate if you let us know in advance if you will be late or absent due to exceptional circumstances. The course is very intensive and requires homework to be completed every week. Every course day is relevant and forms an essential part of the course as a whole. We therefore advise students to attend every week in order to get the most out of the course and complete it successfully. It is the student's own responsibility to complete homework on time and to catch up by the following week if a course day was missed.

The best way to contact us is via email:

info@cotswoldgardeningsschool.co.uk

Please allow at least two working days for us to respond to email requests as we may be busy during the day teaching other courses. Please do not contact the school principal or any visiting lecturers via their personal email address, unless you have previously agreed this with them.

Enquiries over the phone are very welcome during office hours, but we do ask to respect the private time of Caroline Tatham and her family in the evening and during the weekend.

Photographs: We ask that each student hands in two (passport) photographs at the start of the course. This is to help the tutors to get to know you.

Cloakroom: Please use the cloakroom to hang up coats and store belongings not needed for the course, so as to keep the studio clear.

Toilet: The toilet is located opposite the cutting garden entrance.

Coursework and handing in:

All coursework handed in should be your own work, suitably referenced where applicable. When handing in you will be asked to sign a form confirming that your work has all been completed by yourself and is original work. Where intentional plagiarism (the passing off of another's work as your own) is found, the school will undertake disciplinary procedures. This includes copying and pasting information from the internet into written documents such as plant portfolios.

All work needs to be handed in on week 9 of the course in order for you to receive a certificate.

Should a student have a valid reason such as illness for not being able to complete work on time an extension can be agreed with the school principal. This needs to be agreed with at least one week's notice prior to the hand in date. On submission students will be required to list each item handed in on the form provided. All work must be submitted in a suitable named portfolio and each item must be individually named either on the title block or the back of the sheet or with each sketch book.

The school takes care of student work very seriously. While we do everything possible to prevent the loss or damage of student work the school accepts no responsibility in the event that this might happen.

Studio: Please try not to take any beverages into the studio - hot or cold. It's amazing how much damage one cup of tea can do to another student's precious project work.

Please also help us to keep the studio tidy by removing your equipment and other belongings at the end of the day as the studio is used for other classes. Please also remember to label all of your equipment so it can be easily returned if lost.

Please put any rubbish in the bin provided in the studio.

Mobile Telephones must be switched off during lectures and not used during class time if possible - we understand that in an emergency this may not be possible.

We kindly ask you not to take any photos or film any material which is shown to you during your course (this includes Powerpoint presentations). Many of these images are protected by copyright, and we have a duty as a school to maintain client confidentiality.

the cotswold gardening school

All course hand-outs have been carefully put together by the school's Principal Caroline Tatham, who is an experienced lecturer and has made sure the hand-outs contain ample information on all topics discussed. In order for every student to get the most out of the course, it is important that the tutors can gauge if everyone has understood the subject. The use of camera's or camera-phones during a lecture creates a barrier between student and teacher, and can disturb the teacher and distract fellow students.

Gossington Hall house and gardens:

Please bear in mind that the school is part of the private residence of Caroline Tatham and her family and there are at times children and animals in the garden. We kindly ask you to respect their privacy and refrain from entering the gardens or going up to the main house unless you have specifically arranged this with Caroline first.

Please park in the car park provided and not the drive to the main house.

Students are asked not to have materials for project work, such as stone or decking samples, or any brochures or catalogues sent directly to the school. Items should be sent directly to your own address and then brought into the school for tutorials or presentations.

Dogs are not permitted in the school building at any time. In the event that it may be necessary for students to bring a dog with them it must be kept in a very well ventilated car or on a lead at all times. Any dog mess must be cleared away. Students are not permitted to allow dogs to run freely around the garden.

Students are expected to be respectful of the grounds around the school:

During your course there will be opportunities to visit the gardens with your tutor.

Please do not take cuttings or pick seeds without discussing directly with Caroline first. Please do not walk on the flower beds. If you want to get close to a plant for a photo or read a plant label, please ask for assistance. The garden renovation is on-going. Please take care on site and be sensible with regard to potential hazards such as hoses or loose paving stones that can be tripped over. Students are not permitted to tour or use the gardens without supervision or permission, this includes the use of private garden furniture for lunch breaks.

Students are expected to behave in a manner which is respectful to others and conduct themselves in a professional manner at all times. This includes staff members, visiting lecturers, other students and clients.

It is important that students' behaviour does not interfere with nor disrupt class activities. This includes verbal as well as physical behaviour, in class, during volunteering projects, on supplier visits and at client's gardens (course depending).

Please always use respectful language towards other students, tutors and staff and clients, including language used in email and phone messages or during school trips. Any student persisting in anti-social behaviour may be asked to leave the school with no refund of fees. This decision will be made at the discretion of the school's principal.

Volunteering and networking opportunities

Selected students may be offered volunteering opportunities during and after their course allowing them to experience real projects, clients and their gardens.

This is not part of the course but may be offered as an added extra at the discretion of the school principal. Any student not behaving in a professional manner will be asked to leave immediately.

On occasion the school principal may share some of her professional contacts with students. Students are expected to behave in a professional manner at all times and understand that they are representing the school and the principal's design practice by their behaviour.

Disclosure of health concerns

The school takes appropriate and reasonable precautions to protect the health and safety of students in the classroom.

Additionally, some course activities may require students to visit the garden at Gossington Hall. Students are advised always to wear appropriate footwear and take care on site. We kindly ask that students inform the school of any special health-related conditions which may affect course activities at the time of enrolment.

Please feel utterly free to ask your tutors any questions at any time during the course. You are with us to learn and if you do not feel comfortable asking questions that is our fault for not making it OK for you to do so.

We need to work together and we are here for you - so do let us know if you encounter any problems!

Thank you for your cooperation.

Caroline Tatham – Principal
