More about this course

If you are interested in knowing more about the unique world of show garden designing and building then this is the course for you.

Whether you are considering a build yourself or are just interested in this strangely addictive pastime we have lots of insider tips and experiences to share with you.

We will also take a look at the design trends from Chelsea that will be influencing our gardening for years to come.

Having mentored the Festival Gardens at the RHS Malvern Spring Festival we have plenty of experience of both designing and building show gardens.

We have also built celebrity stages for both the RHS Malvern Spring Festival and for 'A Garden Celebrated' at The Royal Garden at Highgrove - which function in a similar way to show gardens.

Discover how gardens are built in a few weeks and are made to look as if they have always been there and some of the specialist suppliers that make the shows possible.

Tea, coffee and a delicious lunch are included in your day. Please call ahead if you have any special dietary requirements and we will always try to accommodate you.

We pride ourselves in offering quality learning in a fun, relaxed and friendly atmosphere. Come and escape to our rural location for the day and learn something new or brush up existing knowledge.

Please bring your wellies if you would like to come on the garden tour during your course.

The course starts at 10am and finishes at 4pm.

All of our courses make great gifts and we have lovely gift vouchers for you to present to the lucky recipient.
